1899

The C. Merhl Cromwell House is a two and one-half story frame cross gable Carpenter Gothic residence covered with German siding. The main entrance is an arched four panel door with arched and bracketed transom with side lights.

The L-shaped residence with rear two story open porch is typical of many houses in Buckeystown.

The house was built on a parcel purchased by Ruth Ann Tavenner from Charles and Sarah Thomas for $250.00 on May 9, 1999. In 1919, Luther Tavenner, the executor for Ruth Ann Tavenner sold the house to Clara Belle Cromwell for $2,500.00. The house has remained in the Cromwell family since that time.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Mehrl Cromwell House is a two and one-half story frame cross gable Carpenter Gothic residence which faces west from the east side of Route 85 in Buckeystown.

The principle facade is five bays wide. The main entrance, an arched four panel door with arched and bracketed transom with side lights is located in the third bay. Two over two arched Victorian windows with louvered shutters occupy the remaining bays on the first and second levels. A small Palladian window is located in the center gable. Extending five bays wide across the front of the building is a columned frame porch which has been replaced.

The main block of the building is two bays wide. A two story frame addition extends to the north rear of the building. A two story open porch is located along the south side of the addition.

On the south side of the main block of the building, both of the bays have been covered by their shutters and from historic photographs, it appears they have been covered for at least forty years.

The roof has been covered by patterned slate with fishscale shingling. Three single brick chimneys extend from the north, south, and east sides of the residence.

The residence is constructed on a low random stone foundation and is covered by German siding.
